

“He gives power to the weak, and strength to the powerless.”

Isaiah 40:29

Our principal, Manache, with some of our school kids that will be sponsored this year.

If you could have any superpower, what would it be?

Would you want to fly, or be invisible, or be able to teleport (that would be mine—to be able to go anywhere in the world, and then be able to sleep in my own bed at night).

We asked our school-sponsored kids this question—and the answers were humbling. Though some did want to fly or be invisible, most of them would use their super powers to help others. I compiled several of their answers here for you—

I would help children go to school. I would install electricity and give water.

I would eliminate the kidnapping problem. I would build hospitals everywhere in my country. I would plant trees, to change my environment.

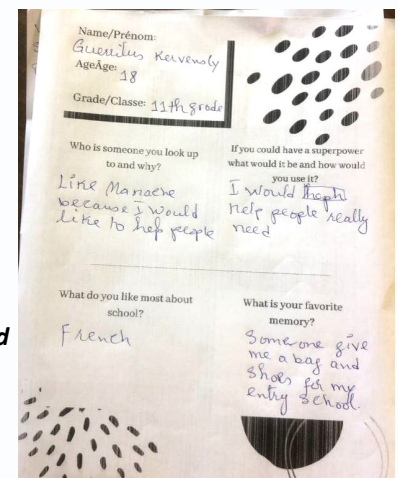

I would give jobs to many people. I would help the disabled.

I would be strong to make many houses and work hard to take care of all the old people. I would develop my country.

I would demand that all children can go to school. I would fly so I could see who needs help, especially those who are kidnapped. I would support people to go to the hospital.

I would be invisible to go and help all the people that the gangs kidnapped. I would build a new, clean, safe Haiti. I would help give peace to Haiti. I would share toys to kids.

I would make Haiti a safe country. I would send lots of kids to school like the mission did for me. I would give food to those in need. I would love people no matter their level, rich or poor, and help people who are sick.

“I would help people come to Jesus.”

Thank you to our donors and sponsors for partnering with us to serve these kids and trusting God to empower them to serve others!

Top row from left: Some of our former orphanage kids are taking initiative with help from our wonderful donors & sponsors—Paulson's new barbershop business, Dugarry's electrician training, Stanley's work on a business degree. Bottom row from left: our orphanage "graduates" received Christmas shopping money from sponsors and our kindergartners enjoyed a Christmas party. Our school suffered some roof damage from recent rain storms, so we will be working on repairs and improvements to get ready for the new school year.
